

Susan Whitener is Dean of Learning Resources and Web Services at the West Hills Community College District. She has a Master Degree in English-Nonfiction Prose from California State University, Fresno. With over 25 years in higher education, Dean Whitener has been involved in distance education since 1993 and has been a long-standing member of WICHE/WCET and ACCCA. Dean Whitener's experience includes online initiatives and academic programs, web services, classroom technologies, videoconference networks, certificated staff development and technology training, and library and tutorial services.

